Satellite Phone Subsidy Scheme Guidelines and Application Form

About the Scheme

The Satellite Phone Subsidy Scheme (the Scheme) is an Australian Government initiative to make mobile communications more accessible and affordable for people living or working in areas beyond 3G or GSM terrestrial mobile coverage—including aviation and maritime users. The Scheme is administered by the Department of Broadband, Communications and the Digital Economy (the Department).

The Australian Government recognises that access to mobile communications is increasingly important in providing social and economic benefits. The Scheme is a significant part of an ongoing commitment to improving the accessibility of mobile services in regional, rural and remote areas of Australia.

If you are approved for a subsidy, you will be able to buy a satellite mobile phone from a registered dealer for the retail price less the amount of the subsidy. Approved applicants can receive up to 85 percent of the retail price of a satellite phone, to a maximum of $1000 (including GST).

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO APPLY

IMPORTANT: Do not buy your satellite mobile phone yet. You must wait until your application has been approved and you have received the appropriate paperwork from the Department. A list of Terms and Definitions is on page 8.

Step 1—Read the guidelines and conditions

You must read pages 1–3 of this form to work out whether you may be eligible to apply for the Scheme. You should also read the Subsidy Agreement on pages 8–9.

Step 2—Identify a dealer

Shop around and find the phone, service provider and dealer that best suits your needs but do not buy the phone yet.

Determine whether the dealer is registered for the Scheme by asking the dealer or by contacting the Administrator. A subsidy will only be provided to an eligible person or organisation for a phone purchased from a registered dealer.

For information about phones and services, you can contact participating satellite mobile phone dealers. A list of dealers is available on the Department's website at www.dbcde.gov.au/satphone or by calling 1800 674 058.

Step 3—Apply for the subsidy

Complete the attached Application for Subsidy Form (which includes the Subsidy Agreement). The subsidy may only be paid if you correctly complete and sign the form, agreeing to abide by the specified terms and conditions.

For help with your application contact the Scheme's Administrator on:

Phone: 1800 674 058 (free call from a fixed phone)
Fax: (02) 6271 1078
Email: satphone@dbcde.gov.au
Or visit: www.dbcde.gov.au/satphone

Step 4—Post your application

Post your completed application to:

The Administrator
Satellite Phone Subsidy Scheme
Department of Broadband, Communications and the Digital Economy
GPO Box 2154
CANBERRA ACT 2601

Note: Signed applications may be faxed, or scanned and emailed but the original of the application must also be posted.

What happens then?

You will usually receive notification of the outcome of your application within 10 to 15 business days of the Scheme's Administrator receiving an application containing all the relevant information. We may need more information from you before a final decision is made and it is your responsibility to provide sufficient information in support of your application if requested.

If your application is rejected you will be notified in writing and provided with reasons for the decision.

If your application is approved:

- You will be sent a letter, an Approved Purchaser Form and a copy of the Subsidy Agreement duly executed by the Department. The dealer you selected will be notified at the same time.
- You will be notified whether you are entitled to the higher level of subsidy or the lower level of subsidy (as explained in the 'Guidelines for Purchasers' on pages 2 and 3 of this form). The exact amount of the subsidy will be calculated by the dealer, in accordance with the Guidelines for Dealers.
- You must purchase your phone on or before the expiry date stated on the Approved Purchaser Form.

GUIDELINES FOR PURCHASERS

What does the subsidy cover?

The subsidy is for the purchase of a satellite phone that is either:

- handheld or
- non-handheld and used in a mobile environment, such as phones that are installed and used in a vehicle or vessel.

Importantly, the subsidy is not available for phones that are fixed to a homestead, building or other immobile structure.

The subsidy also does not cover any ongoing bills, charges or the ongoing service of the service provider.

Who is eligible for a subsidy?

You must be an Australian citizen or permanent resident, or be a registered organisation in Australia. You must live, work, or operate a business in an area not served by a current terrestrial mobile phone service. This includes Australia's air space, external territories and Exclusive Economic Zone.

You must be one of the following:

- a private individual
- a community group (non government funded)
- a not-for-profit organisation with less than 20 full-time equivalent employees—including casual and part-time (non government funded)
- an Indigenous corporation
- a small business
- an emergency service organisation
- a health organisation, or
- an educational institution

and you must either:

- live (have your principal place of residence) or run a business (have your principal operating address) or
- spend a substantial amount of time (no less than 180 calendar days in the two years following the date the phone was purchased) in an area of Australia where terrestrial mobile phone coverage is not available.

Eligible applicants can apply for a subsidy for a replacement handset if you:

- live or are based in an area without terrestrial mobile phone coverage, and
- purchased a phone under the Scheme three or more years earlier, which is no longer in your possession or is not in a condition to provide adequate services.

Please refer to page 8 under Terms and Definitions for guidance.

Who is not eligible for a subsidy?

You will not be eligible for the subsidy if:

- the phone is to be used solely or principally outside of Australia
- the phone is to be used as a demonstration, loan or rental satellite phone or for other similar purposes as part of satellite phone sales, marketing or client service strategies or
- you have received any other type of government-funded subsidy (apart from a tax rebate) for a satellite mobile phone.

What level of subsidy is available?

If your application is successful, the amount of the subsidy that will be paid depends on your principal address and the price of the phone you purchase.

1. A subsidy of up to 85 percent of the retail price of the phone, to a maximum of $1000 (including GST) is available if you live or operate a business in an area of Australia without terrestrial mobile phone coverage. You will need to provide proof of address to receive this level of subsidy.
2. A subsidy of up to 50 percent of the retail price of the phone, to a maximum of $700 (including GST) is available if you live or operate a business in an area that has terrestrial mobile phone coverage, but spend a substantial amount of time in an area of Australia without coverage (i.e. no less than 180 calendar days in the two years following the date the phone was purchased).

The Guidelines for Dealers specify how the subsidy is calculated. Once calculated by the dealer, this amount will be passed on to you in the form of a reduced price paid for the phone at the time you purchase the phone. The dealer will then seek reimbursement of this amount from the Department.

How many subsidies can be applied for?

- Individuals may only apply for one subsidy per person.
- Businesses and other organisations may apply for a maximum of two subsidies per business or group, with the exception of Indigenous corporations, Health organisations and Emergency services organisations.
- Indigenous corporations, Health organisations and Emergency services organisations that demonstrate a need to service a number of remote communities or locations may apply for more than two subsidies. The granting of additional subsidies is at the discretion of the Department, and cannot be guaranteed.
- Eligible applicants who purchased a phone under the Scheme three or more years earlier, which is no longer in your possession or in a condition to provide adequate services may apply for a subsidy for a replacement handset.

When can the phone be purchased?

If your application for a subsidy is approved, you will be sent an Approved Purchaser Form and a signed copy of the Subsidy Agreement. You must not purchase the phone before you receive the Approved Purchaser Form and you must purchase the phone on or before the expiry date on the Approved Purchaser Form.

You will have two months from the date on the Approved Purchaser Form to buy your phone. No subsidy will be provided for a phone purchased after the expiry date. You may seek an extension of time from the Department prior to the expiry date, an extension may not necessarily be granted, and is at the discretion of the Department. If an extension is granted, a new Approved Purchaser Form will be issued to you.

Does the phone need to be purchased from a particular dealer?

You must buy the phone from a dealer registered under the Scheme. A dealer may apply for registration (by submitting an Application for Registration) at the same time as you submit an application that nominates that dealer.

If your application is approved, you must buy your phone from the dealer specified on the Approved Purchaser Form provided to you by the Administrator. The only exception is where a change of dealer has been approved by the Administrator.
